

DICK WOLFSIE

For the past 20 years on WISH-TV's Daybreak, Dick Wolfsie has lent his unique brand of wit and humor to the screen. His video essays and personal stories are unique to Indiana television. Many have been syndicated nationally.

This former high school and college English teacher has logged over 10,000 hours of television. Wolfsie's work in the media has netted him more than 20 awards including a regional Emmy for best host, a national ACE award and a Casper Award for five years as host and producer of AM Indiana.

Dick is a weekly humor columnist for 25 central Indiana newspapers. An audio version of his column can be heard on WFYI every weekend right after Car Talk.

He has written 12 books, including his bestseller, the third edition of Indiana Curiosities. Dick's newest book is Mornings with Barney, the story of a beagle that became a TV star.